

Timetable of core Welcome Week events

Welcome Week consists of over 500 events designed to welcome new students to NTU. Whilst many of these vary year on year, there are several core 'flagship' events and activities that run every year and are useful for staff to be aware of.

- Arrivals weekend

Students living in halls of residence begin to move in

- PG Welcome to NTU talks

A formal welcome to the university from the Vice-Chancellor and other guest speakers. From 2017, this event is for PG students only – UG students will be welcomed as part of their course induction.

- Freshers' Fairs

A chance for students to find out more about the opportunities and services on offer at the university, students' union and in Nottingham

Welcome Week and course inductions

For the majority of courses, course inductions and Welcome Week run alongside one another.

Course induction is compulsory and plays a crucial role in helping students to settle into their course and new academic community; we recommended that course teams plan their induction programme with this in mind.

The Welcome Week programme is designed to complement course inductions and create additional opportunities for students to make friends. Wherever possible, staff planning course induction are encouraged to allow students time to engage with Welcome Week, especially core events such as the Freshers' Fairs.
