Become a Student Ambassador

Nottingham Business School
 Nottingham Law School
 School of Social Sciences

Our student ambassadors are current students who:

- represent their area of study at open days, visitor events and in other activities.
- are happy to meet and talk to visitors about their course and student life.
- show, inform and help prospective students and families to learn more about studying at NTU and living in Nottingham.

If you're interested in taking on the challenge, and are studying any of the courses within Nottingham Business School, Nottingham Law School or the School of Social Sciences, please read on.

As a student ambassador you need to:

- be enthusiastic and friendly;
- be a good communicator with a positive attitude; and
- be in your first, second or final year of study on a full-time or part-time course at NTU.

Working hours:

You will get hourly pay at competitive rates above minimum wage and can expect to work:

- short blocks of time during weekday and weekend open events and conferences; and
- occasional evening events.

What might your role be?

You will help with a range of activities including:

- meeting and greeting and leading campus tours at open days;
- conferences and commercial events;
- student profiles;
- social media reps;
- print photography; and
- videos.

How can you benefit from this?

- This is a great opportunity to gain some paid work experience that will look fantastic on your CV.
- It offers you a chance to meet students from other courses and make new contacts.
- You'll learn more about NTU and get involved in new activities.
