Enhancing Learning through Authentic Artefacts

Louise Taylor (NLS)

Michael McCann (NBS)
“Economic life is messy”

(Arthur, 1994)

Authentic Learning and Assessment

Scholarship

Artefacts
Economic / Financial Data

Source: Bloomberg: accessed on 30/6/2016
Authentic, Active Assessment

(i) Choose a week in January 2016. Identify the changes in yield, and hence price of the UK government’s benchmark bonds across the week.

(ii) Using relevant theory, provide an explanation for the changes in yields observed.

(iii) Illustrate and explain the market process by which the changes occurred.
Different learning environments but both using authentic learning, teaching and assessment to...

Encourage active learning/engagement

Increase attainment

Develop professional skills
Any questions?